	5in thick concrete. 107ft x 3ft with #3 rebar every 12in on center and 160ft x 5ft with #3 rebar every 12in on center. Materials and pouring concrete is all included. 3000 psi concrete.		$ 6,726.00
	With #4 rebar we would put this every 15in on center since its more stronger than #3 rebar and would just be $ 300.00 more which would come up to be $ 7,026.00 in total with #4 rebar.

Dear Mr. Ellis

Enclosed is my quote for a drainage flume you requested. Based on my measurements, the length of the flume will be 258 ft. long and after looking at the erosion and water flow, it is my opinion that we build the flume 3 ft. wide. This quote along with the diagram below will show the outside walls of the flume will be 9" deep with the valley of the flume 6" from the top to carry water away quickly. We will use 3/8" rebar to secure and strengthen the concrete to withstand the weight of the vehicles and equipment that will be driving over the flume. We anticipate approximately 20 yards of concrete will be needed to complete the project. Please note that the diagram is just an illustration and not an exact replica of the finish product.

The quote to construct this flume including all labor and materials is $14,375.00. If you choose to use our company to construct this flume, please be informed that due to the rain we have had in the past weeks, we are currently three weeks out to be able to start.

Thank you for considering us and allowing us to bid on this project.

Sincerely,
